Principal's Pad –

This is always a very busy time of year. We have almost completed our OAKS testing for the year, we are planning transition dates for our incoming 4th graders, almost every day we are taking the classroom into our community for field trips, and we've started planning our curriculum to start the school year in September. We will be hiring a new 5th and 6th grade teacher for Sunset and there are many applicants who have applied so I'm sure we will hire some great people for those positions. As we continue to review applications and references, we will have the final candidates for interviews and they will also teach a lesson with our students. This is a great process to really get some insight on how our candidates will do with our kids. I'll keep you posted on the process and announce the new hires in our bulletin too.

This week has been 'Teacher Appreciation Week' and each day we've had special treats for our teachers and have done some special things to recognize the incredible teachers we have. The work our teachers do with your children, the tireless hours they spend at home and coming in on the weekends, the teamwork that they are involved in, and the pride they take as professionals are just a few of the things that I'm so thankful to our teachers for. When you have the chance, please thank our teachers for everything they do, especially taking such great care of our children!

Have a great weekend!
