Principal's Pad-

Principal's Pad – This is a good week to talk about phones and communication. Thanks for your patience as our phones have been down so we are unable to use our intercom system and we don't have all the available phone lines that we usually have. Our technology department is working hard and has found the unique parts, purchased them, had them shipped from Florida, and are putting the puzzle together to get them working as soon as possible. Again, thank you for your patience.

The other thing I wanted to share with you about phones is that many of our students have cell phones and they are allowed to use them at lunchtime, before and after school. They are to be turned off or on silent during any class time so they won't disrupt the learning. While I want our students to communicate regularly with their parents and I want all of our parents involved in our school as much as possible, I've had several instances where students have had a relatively minor issue and rather than telling a duty teacher, their teacher or me, they've called their parent. Again, while I want our students to let you all know what's going on at school, there is a process to follow if there is a problem or an issue. There is no reason to worry a parent when they are not in a position to help with a situation at that moment. Please remind your child, as I have, to talk to an adult at school if they need help and then we would be happy to contact their parent to let them know what's going on. Thank you for your help with this matter.

Have a great weekend,

Dale Inskeep
