Principal's Pad – We've had another busy week with our 5th graders going to the Historical Museum, the MHS Upbeats performing Tuesday morning for our school, some of our 7th graders helped at the Front Street Coos Historical Museum, the 7th grade class going to Marshfield High School for the Teddy Roosevelt impersonation and our 6th graders finishing up their OAKS testing. Tomorrow our teachers are planning out and coordinating the first ten weeks of math instruction at each grade level and are putting together class assignments for next year. Also, we have many applicants for the teaching positions at our school and we want to make sure we are as complete as possible as we review their applications, references and experience. Once we get to our final list of candidates, we will invite them to our school for an interview and they will teach a lesson with our students while we observe.

Our students can tell that it is the end of the year too and I've been reminding them to please continue to make good choices and treat others in a kind manner. The better we all do with our work and how we treat each other, the better the last bit of our school year will be. It would be great if you would remind your children about this as well. Thanks!

Have a great weekend,

Dale Inskip
