Principal Pad – I hope everyone had a nice week and stayed dry with all the rain we've had. We've worked very hard as a staff and a student body to make some improvements in our overall behavior the last two weeks and I am very pleased with the effort and improvement. We've dismissed differently from our morning assembly, teachers have lead classes down to the lunch room, and most importantly, students have been treating each other more positively than they were for the few weeks prior. While it's our primary job to challenge our students and help them learn the things that will help them have a great future, we must first make sure the climate and culture of our school is one where everyone feels safe and comfortable, knows that they will be supported and cared for, and has opportunities to continue to become more independent and demonstrate being responsible. If you took the time to talk with your students about these concepts, thank you very much. If you ever have questions or concerns, please don't hesitate to give me a call or stop by.

Next Monday and Tuesday evenings are our conference nights. If you haven't already signed up for a time with your child's teacher, please make arrangements to meet. Having you, as parents, involved in the education of our students is crucial to helping them reach their full potential. We will also have our library set up to try out our new system for checking on your child's progress at school online with a password. I'm sure we'll have some bugs to work out, so I encourage you to give it a try while you're here for conferences so we can know how to make this new system work the best for you. Thanks again...Have a great weekend,

Dale Inskip
