Principal's Pad – As I'm sure you know this is the busiest time of year. I am finishing up evaluations of staff. I'll be at Millicoma on Wednesday participating in the hiring process of a shared music teacher. I've worked with our staff to finalize our instructional schedule for next year and have collaboratively planned a few changes that will help us with our student management next year. I know it's busy, but I always do my best to make people the biggest priority. I want to be available for our students, staff, parents, and community. I do my best to make sure I return calls the same day. Sometimes I may not but that is rare. If you have questions or concerns, please give me a call so we can talk together and make sure things are working smoothly and positively.

In regard to your child's next year teacher, we will post those in August during or right after registration. This is because we often times have students move away and students move into our school area. This causes us to make some adjustments in August making sure our classes are as balanced as possible. Thanks for your understanding with this.

Enjoy the weather and have a great weekend,

Dale Inskeep, Principal
